It has been a strange few years since the last meeting and we hope members have a degree of understanding as the committee have only in the last two months begun to have face to face meetings again, we have held all club committee meetings virtually which at times have proven to be a challenge.

The club wishes to thank everyone for participating in a successful transition to Clubmate, which has proven to be a great asset during the periods of limited contact and allowed the club to continue operating memberships.

Work parties have been reduced during the Covid period and the club followed government guidance and Angling Trust recommendations during the period. However, certain contracted work was undertaken, and we start to see a degree of normality return.

Members are reminded to address all comments in a positive manner and the club operates a zero-tolerance approach to negative and antagonistic behaviour, please keep it light and friendly. We look forward to your attendance and participation

Yours Sincerely

RAC Committee
